The 12th KOCSEA Technical Symposium

The KOCSEA Technical Symposium 2011 was held at KOTRA (Korea Trade-Investment Promotion Agency) San Jose, CA, December 17th - 18th, 2011.

- General Chair: Prof. Jungwoo Ryoo (Penn State University, Altoona)
- Program Chair: Prof. Bongjun Ko (IBM T. J. Watson Research Center)

The two day event included two keynote speeches by Dr. Seung Ku Hwang (ETRI), Prof. Insup Lee (University of Pennsylvania), Prof. Insook Choi (New York City College of Technology), and Prof. Chan Mo Park (Pyong Yang University of Science and Technology); six technical sessions, Birds-of-a-Feather (BoF) branch out sessions and an award ceremony. About seventy researchers, from the academia, the industry, and the US Government, participated in the event. The event was co-organized by KOCSEA, KUSCO (Korea US Science Cooperation Center, Inc.), and KSEA (Korean Scientists and Engineers Association) with generous support from KUSCO, KSEA, Google, Samsung, and ETRI (Electronics and Telecommunications Research Institute).

KOCSEA

Korean Computer Scientists and
Engineers Association in America

About KOCSEA

The Korean Computer Scientists and Engineers Association in America (KOCSEA), founded in 1983, is a non-profit organization of Korean and Korean American computer scientists and engineers in North America. The basic goal of KOCSEA is to "promote communication, information exchange and cooperation among its members and to provide opportunities for them to make contributions to computer-related fields in Korea and U.S." Currently KOCSEA has about 500 members in academia and in industry at various stages in their careers, from undergraduate and graduate students to young professionals and assistant professors, and to senior executives and professors.

Member Benefits

As a KOCSEA member, you will be provided with (1) up-to-date information about new developments and opportunities in the field, and (2) access to a strong network of established and emerging players in computer science and engineering.

Examples of the above include timely announcements of career opportunities, and invitation to various events organized by KOCSEA.

Note: Membership is FREE!
